Product Description

Got a high-powered, 3-martini lunch out in the woods? Maybe not. But if you conduct business outdoors, would like to make an eco-statement, or just want power independence when you're away from the office, then the Voltaic Generator case is your answer for laptop power independence.

With its 17W solar module, and 88WHr integrated solar battery, the Generator can power your mobile office anywhere you go. Day or night. You can efficiently power laptops, cell phones, tablets, cameras, and most other hand held electronics. Each hour of summer sun will offset 30-45 minutes of laptop run time.

The Voltaic Generator case itself is a thing of beauty. Premium materials & rock solid construction inside & out. Plenty of pockets and compartments with access to the power system. And wiring that is conveniently tucked away, so it won't get in your way.

Generator Solar Laptop Case Features... Volume:

575 cubic inches (9.5 liters)

Dimensions:

18" wide x 13.5" wide x 3.5" deep (46 cm x 34 cm wide x 9 cm deep)

Weight:

4.5 lbs (2050 grams) including battery and solar panels

Removable shoulder strap Padded laptop pocket:

Dedicated pocket fits up to a 17" laptop (17" MacBook, larger 17" laptops may not fit and often take more power to charge)

Storage:

Middle pocket stores documents or a tablet neatly. Front mesh pockets keep charging accessories organized.

A Few Notes...

Apple: MagSafe 1] & MagSafe 2] connectors are available from Modern Outpost to cover all MacBook models.

Dell: Voltaic's external battery will not re-charge the battery on the Dell, but it will run the laptop. This means you should not run your Dell battery completely flat when planning to use an external battery.

HP Business: HP Business laptops will require an optional adapter 7.4 x 5.1 x 0.6mm Others including Acer, ASUS, HP, Lenovo, Samsung Toshiba and VAIO: Using the included adapter set, we've been able to connect to and charge every modern 15" or smaller laptop we've tested. Asus: Eee PC Netbooks (19V setting, requires optional adapter).

You can charge digital camera batteries using an optional camera charger cradle] matched to the battery in your camera. Connect the cradle to the battery via the USB or 12V ports, or directly to the panels.

Better yet, choose a universal camera battery charger], and never worry about what camera you take with you.
